Part I – "Mr. Know – All"

1. (ii) he thinks it's a compliment.
2. (i) he is interested in the pearl business.
3. (ii) Mrs. Ramsay's pearls.

4. We learn that Mr. Ramsay is insensitive and as dogmatic as Mr. Kelada and wanted to prove that Mr. Kelada is wrong. Mrs. Ramsay tried to stop the bet from happening. She looked scared and was about to faint. Mr. Ramsay paid no attention to her and continued the argument and bet with Mr. Kelada.

5. Thinking skill I chose: Inferring
Mr. Kelada does not want to appear as a fool, especially when he knows he is right. People on the ship thought that Mr. Kelada knew everything and when Mr. Kelada said "I was mistaken", they understood he doesn't know everything and can make mistakes. I assume Mr. Kelada says this because he knows the truth. Mr. Kelada lied so that Mrs. Ramsay wouldn't be humiliated. I guess it makes Mr. Kelada feel better and less like a fool.

"A Summer's Reading"

6. (iv) she helps him when she thinks he is reading.
7. (iii) asks different questions.
8. (i) they don't know that George lied.

9. George lies to Mr. Cattanzara because he is too embarrassed to tell him that he does not do much of anything during the summer. It is important to George to be respected by Mr. Cattanzara.

10. Thinking skill I chose: Explaining Cause and Effect

Mr. Cattanzara believes that George will be encouraged to read the books he promised as a result of the compliments and respect that people in the neighborhood will give him for his so-called accomplishment. That was Mr. Cattanzara's plan for spreading the rumor.

Part II - "Thank you Ma'am"

11. (iv) he has no one to care for him.

12. (ii) He tries to steal from her.

13. Blue suede shoes.

14. (i) She is going to take him to jail.

15. Thinking skill I chose: Inferring.

We can understand Mrs. Jones did things in her past that she regrets. Mrs. Jones says this to Roger because she wants to show him that she doesn't judge him. She also made mistakes in her past and maybe she sees a little bit of herself in Roger.

Part III- "The Treasure of Lemon Brown"

16. Just like the most valuable treasures are the ones that are felt by the heart, in "The Treasure of Lemon Brown", Lemon Brown's treasure was not something of monetary value – wasn't worth a lot of money. This treasure was the love and respect of his son. The fact that the newspaper clippings and the harmonica were the only things Jesse took with him when he went off to war, prove how important his father was to him. This significant and meaningful father-son relationship and the sense of pride and love Lemon Brown felt when he discovered how much he meant to his son, can never be measured with money. These emotions are definitely felt by the heart and this unique feeling is what makes it a treasure.

17. "The Road Not Taken" – This quote from Graham Brown expresses similar ideas that the speaker in the poem The Road Not Taken presents. The poem takes place in the woods with a traveler who faces a dilemma. He sees two different roads in front of him and doesn't know which road to take. The dilemma the traveler faces represents the different choices we face in our lives. Just like the traveler in the poem, sometimes we face two options and can't decide which is the right one. We understand that the traveler is adventurous and independent when he chose to take the road less people travelled on. He believes that being daring and making brave decisions in our lives will "make all the difference".
